HELEN BALLER KINDERGARTEN
TEACHER Candy Michener revels in the comical stories and phrases used by her students - like the time one child told her he accidentally cut the "gutter" off his cow picture!

"I love the excitement that young children bring to school. And they are never short on praise and affection for their teacher," Michener said.

After 37 years in Camas, Michener says it's still the children who keep her enthused about her job. Most of all, Michener cherishes the notes and letters from former kindergarteners who many at the close of their senior year thank her for the role she played in their education.

Although Camas has tripled in size since she began teaching, Michener appreciates the fact that Camas is still a personal place to work. "It doesn't get much better than this," she said.

*"I love the excitement
that young children
bring to school. And they are never short
on praise and affection
for their teacher."*
